Celebrate American Indian Culture through music and dance! Autumn Dance Celebration showcases different Native American dances outdoors at Queens Farm. Eight Indian Nations will be represented including Hopi, Winnebago, Lenape, Choctaw, Mayan, Seneca, Santo Domingo and Chickahomin. This event also features a market of authentic Native American art, jewelry, ceramics, textiles, and food. The audience is encouraged to bring their own lawn chairs and picnic blankets, as seating will not be provided. In autumn, the bountiful summer harvest is celebrated and thanks are given through song and dance, reflecting a reverence and appreciation for the wonderful things we find in nature.
